Janet Fox is a former middle school and high school English teacher. She became a children's author in the mid-90s, when her son's learning differences led her to develop the ideas described in her award-winning book for Free Spirit Publishing, Get Organized Without Losing It (2006). Her other published work for children includes fiction (Spider Magazine) and science non-fiction (Highlights for Children).

Her young adult novel, Faithful (Speak/Penguin Group), debuted in May 2010, and is an Amelia Bloomer List pick; it was followed by a companion novel, Forgiven, in June 2011, a Junior Library Guild selection. She is a 2010 graduate of the MFA/Writing for Children and Young Adults program at Vermont College of Fine Arts, and a former Regional Advisor for the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators. Janet and her husband and college-age son recently moved from College Station, Texas, to Bozeman, Montana, where her son is a college student and Janet and her husband enjoy the mountain vistas.
