VOLCANO DREAMS

A STORY OF YELLOWSTONE

"Janet Fox warmly harnesses the rhythms and sensations of wakefulness and sleep in this insightful exploration of the geological past and (hopefully quite distant) future of an American treasure."

—Chris Barton, Sibert Honor-winning author of The Day-Glo Brothers

JANET FOX is an author, mom, outdoor enthusiast, and former teacher. She has an MS in marine geology and an MFA in Writing for Children. Her award-winning books, written for children and young adults, have won her fans of all ages. She's been to the bottom of the ocean in a submersible and has spent many years in Yellowstone National Park "geyser gazing" with her son and geophysicist husband. She lives in Bozeman, Montana. You can find out more about her and her books at www.janetsfox.com.

MARLO GARNSWORTHY is an Australian American author, illustrator, editor, science communicator, and naturalist. Her published works include fiction and nonfiction, though nonfiction and science are her passion. She has traveled extensively, frequently accompanying scientists working in the field, and spent two months on a scientific research expedition, sailing on an icebreaker from Antarctica through the planet's roughest seas, in the Southern Ocean. Her dream is to return to Antarctica to study sea ice. You can learn more about her at www.wordybirdstudio.com.

Janet Fox Illustrated by Marlo Garnsworthy

VOLCANO DREAMS

Lyrical prose and luminous paintings lead readers on a tour of the Yellowstone supervolcano, from the wolves, elk, bears, and mountain goats that roam its surface to the fiery depths of its magma chamber. Volcano Dreams knits together the vibrancy of the Yellowstone ecosystem with its explosive history, placing the everyday lives of its creatures within the context of geological time. Janet Fox's poetic text takes us to the root of it all—the "sleeping giant" of magma responsible for the Yellowstone landscape—and Marlo Garnsworthy's evocative paintings capture the awe of natural forces at work in our nation's oldest national park.
